

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Michele Kmet
DOCKET NO.: 23-23484.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 15-36-203-008-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) are Michele Kmet, the appellant, by attorney Andreas Mamalakis, of the Law Offices of Andreas Mamalakis in Kenosha; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, PTAB hereby finds No Change in the Cook County Board of Review's assessment of the property is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $7,950
IMPR.: $34,050
TOTAL: $42,000

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a Cook County Board of Review decision pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2023 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a 1,680 square feet, two-story stucco dwelling on a 7,950 square feet parcel in Riverside of Riverside Township, Cook County. The 99-year-old, class 2-05 residence per the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance featured two bathrooms, a one-car garage, and a full basement. The property last sold in June 1990 for $132,000.

The appellant pleads assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal, arguing that the subject improvement assessment should be reduced to $16.65 per living square foot. To show subject assessment nonuniformity, the appellant presented information on five class 2-05 properties within .70 miles of the subject property. These suggested comparables each included a 1.5- to 2.5-car garage, a full or partial basement, and 1.5 to 2.5 bathrooms. The appellant's selections spanned 99 to 115 years in building age; 1,500 to 2,014 square feet in improvement area; and $15.71 to $17.32 per living square foot in improvement assessment.

The board of review countered that the subject improvement assessment of $34,050, or $20.27 per living square foot, was equitable in its “Notes on Appeal.” In defense of the $42,000 total subject assessment, the county board of review introduced into evidence four two-story improvements within a quarter mile of the subject as assessment comparables. The board of review’s preferred comparators contained 1.5 to 2.5 bathrooms, a two- to 3.5-car garage, and a full or partial basement. These improvements ranged from 76 to 103 years in building age; from 1,528 to 2,037 square feet in size; and from $21.50 to $24.53 per living square foot in improvement assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires real estate taxes “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). Yet this uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not mandate absolute equality in taxation; instead, a reasonable degree of uniformity in the taxing authority’s assessments suffices. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment is the basis of a property tax appeal, appellants must prove the inequity of the assessments by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof required for a criminal conviction. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should comprise documentation for the year in question of similarly situated properties of compelling proximity to, and with a lack of distinguishing characteristics from, the assessment subject. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) finds the appellant did not overcome this burden of proof.

In this record, board of review comparables #1 and #4 and appellant comparable #2 best approximated the subject improvement and therefore circumscribe the range of equitable subject assessments. Board of review comparable #4 was remarkably superior to the subject improvement because it featured air conditioning, a larger garage, and only marginally less living square footage. By contrast, board of review comparable #1 and appellant comparable #2 contained less living area than the subject. Based on the properties in evidence, PTAB concludes the subject improvement would be equitably assessed between $16.53 and $24.53 per living square foot. Because the subject’s $20.27 per improvement square foot assessment is within the equitable range, PTAB finds the appellant did not prove by clear and convincing evidence assessment inequity or that a subject assessment reduction is justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
