

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Avi Sheth
DOCKET NO.: 23-24274.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 06-31-310-019-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) are Avi Sheth, the appellant, by attorney Andreas Mamalakis, of the Law Offices of Andreas Mamalakis in Kenosha; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, PTAB hereby finds No Change in the Cook County Board of Review's assessment of the property is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $6,745
IMPR.: $24,598
TOTAL: $31,343

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a Cook County Board of Review decision pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) contesting the assessment for the 2023 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

A 2,154 square feet, two-story frame building on a 7,935 square feet parcel in Bartlett, Hanover Township, Cook County comprises the subject property. The 26-year-old, class 2-78 residence per the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance featured 2.5 bathrooms, air conditioning, a two-car garage, and a partial basement. The subject last sold in April 2022 for $410,000. The appellant waived the right to a hearing on the appeal.

The appellant pleads assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal, arguing that the subject improvement assessment must be reduced to $9.14 per living square foot. As evidence of subject assessment nonuniformity, the appellant presented five class 2-78 properties within .49 miles of the subject. These suggested comparables included 2.5 bathrooms, a full basement, air conditioning, and a two- to 3.5-car garage. The appellant's improvements also spanned 25 to 29 years in building age; 2,144 to 2,420 square feet in area; and $8.32 to $9.44 per living square foot in assessment.

The board of review countered that the subject improvement assessment of $24,599, or $11.42 per living square foot, was equitable in its “Notes on Appeal.” In defense of the $31,343 total subject assessment, the county board of review proposed four two-story frame improvements on the subject’s block as assessment comparables. The county board of review’s preferred comparators included 2.5 or 3.5 bathrooms, a full or partial basement, and a two- or 2.5-car garage. These 28-year-old buildings had 2,092 to 2,408 living square feet and $11.76 to $13.39 per square foot in improvement assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires real estate taxes “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). Yet this uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not mandate absolute equality in taxation; instead, a reasonable degree of uniformity in the taxing authority’s assessments suffices. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment is the basis of a property tax appeal, appellants must prove the inequity of the assessments by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof required for a criminal conviction. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should comprise assessment documentation for the year in question of similarly situated properties with compelling proximity to, and a lack of distinguishing characteristics from, the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) finds the appellant did not surmount this burden of proof.

Of the parties’ submissions, board of review comparables #2 through #4 and appellant comparable #5 most closely approximated the subject’s living square footage and therefore constitute the best evidence of assessment equity. Board of review comparable #3 exactly matched the subject’s living area and amenities, making it the best comparator on record. By contrast, board of review comparables #2 and #4 both included slightly less living square footage than the subject, which board of review comparable #2 mitigated with a larger garage, while board of review comparator #4 boasted an extra full bathroom. Meanwhile, appellant comparable #5 lacked only 10 of the subject’s living square feet and mirrored the subject’s attributes. Given this record, the subject improvement would be equitably assessed from $9.44 to $13.39 per living square foot. Because the subject’s $11.42 per improvement square foot assessment falls within this range, PTAB finds the appellant did not provide sufficiently clear and convincing evidence that the subject assessment was inequitable or that a reduction thereof is justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
