

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Robert Marback
DOCKET NO.: 23-25565.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 27-02-201-037-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Robert Marback, the appellant(s), by attorney Andreas Mamalakis, of the Law Offices of Andreas Mamalakis in Kenosha; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $8,432
IMPR.: $30,567
TOTAL: $38,999

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2023 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property is improved with a one-story, single-family dwelling of frame and masonry construction with 2,114 square feet of living area. The dwelling is 44 years old. Features include a partial basement and two full bathrooms. The property has an 11,242 square foot site and is located in Orland Park, Orland Township, Cook County. The subject is a class 2-04 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant asserts assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument, the appellant submitted information on five suggested equity comparables. The suggested comparable properties ranged in size from 2,060 to 2,534 square feet of living area. Each suggested comparable had one or two fireplaces. Three of the comparables had a full basement while two had a partial basement. Three of the comparables had two full bathrooms and a half bath, one had two full baths, and one had one full bathroom and a half bath. Each comparable property had a two-car garage. The appellant reported that the suggested comparables were located between 0.16 and 0.39 miles of the subject property. The comparables ranged in age from 25 to 64 years old. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $8.77 to $11.90 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduction in the subject's assessment to $29,086.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject as $38,999. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $30,568 or $14.46 per square foot of living area. In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on three suggested equity comparables. The suggested comparable properties ranged in size from 1,803 to 2,214 square feet of living area. All of the comparable properties had a single fireplace, air conditioning, and a two-car garage. Two of the properties had a partial basement, one of which was finished, and one comparable had a full unfinished basement. One suggested comparable had two full bathrooms, one had one bathroom and a half bath, and the third had two full bathrooms and a half bath. The board of review reported that one of the suggested comparables was located on the same block as the subject property, and two properties a quarter mile away. The comparables ranged in age from 38 to 44 years old. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $15.00 to $15.50 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested that the assessment be confirmed.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer asserts assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes "be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law." Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however, and it is sufficient if the taxing authority achieves a reasonable degree of uniformity. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill. Admin. Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a conviction of a crime. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill. Admin. Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity to be appellant's comparables #1, #2, #3, and #4 and the board of review's #1 and #3. These comparable properties had similar sized living areas, similar age, similar features and were located within a much closer degree of proximity to the subject property than all other comparables. In comparison, appellant's comparable #5 was listed at 2,534 square feet of living area, differing from the subject property more significantly, and therefore was afforded less weight. The board of review's comparable #2 was afforded less weight based on the size and features of the house; this property was 1,803 square feet and had a finished basement, distinguishing it from the subject.

The best evidence comparables ranged in improvement assessment of $8.77 to $15.50 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $14.46 per square foot of living area falls within the range established by the best comparables in this record. After considering adjustments to these comparables for differences when compared to the subject, the Board finds the subject's improvement assessment is supported. Based on this record the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
