

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Josef Drobny
DOCKET NO.: 23-32425.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 23-11-304-038-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Josef Drobny, the appellant(s), by attorney George N. Reveliotis, of Reveliotis Law, P.C. in Park Ridge; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $6,283
IMPR.: $47,716
TOTAL: $53,999

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2023 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of an 8,976 square foot site improved with a two-story dwelling of masonry construction with 3,549 square feet of living area. The dwelling on the property is twenty-five years old. Features include a two-car garage, central air conditioning, and a full basement. The subject property is located in Palos Hills, Palos Township, Cook County and is classified as a 2-78 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant asserts assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument, the appellant submitted information on seven suggested equity comparables with varying degrees of similarity to the subject property. The seven properties offered by the appellant as comparables are constructed of either masonry, frame, or frame/masonry, have either a two-car or three-car garage, and range in size from 2,058 to 3,413 square feet of living area. Five of the comparables have central air conditioning and two do not. Three properties have a full basement, two have a partial basement, one has a slab foundation, and one has a crawlspace. The comparables range in age from twenty-two to fifty-one years old. The appellant reports that the comparables are between 0.05 to 0.22 miles from the subject property. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $10.96 to $12.34 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduction in the subject's assessment to $47,735.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject as $53,999. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $47,716 or $13.44 per square foot of living area. In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on three suggested equity comparables. The suggested comparable properties range in size from 2,800 to 3,191 square feet of living area. The board of review's suggested properties are constructed of either masonry or frame and masonry, have either a two-car or three-car garage, central air conditioning, a full basement and one fireplace. The comparable properties range in age from eighteen to thirty-eight years old and have improvement assessments ranging from $14.27 to $15.64 per square foot of living area. The board of review reports that all of the comparables are located in the same subarea and neighborhood code as the subject property. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested that the assessment be confirmed.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer asserts assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes "be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law." Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however, and it is sufficient if the taxing authority achieves a reasonable degree of uniformity. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill. Admin. Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a conviction of a crime. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill. Admin. Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity to be the appellant's comparables #1 and #5 and the board of review's comparable #1. These comparable properties had the most similar sized living areas, age, features and closest proximity to the subject property than other comparables. In comparison, the board of review's comparables #2 and #3 and the appellant's comparables #2, #4, and #7 were afforded less weight due to more significant differences in square feet of living area than the subject property. The appellant's comparables #3 and #6 had frame exterior construction, distinguishing them from the subject property, and were afforded less weight.

The best evidence comparables had improvement assessments of $11.17 to $15.64 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $13.44 per square foot of living area falls within the range established by the best comparables in this record. After considering adjustments to these comparables for differences when compared to the subject, the Board finds the subject's improvement assessment is supported. Based on this record the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
