

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Pawel Lach
DOCKET NO.: 23-34500.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 23-14-105-041-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Pawel Lach, the appellant(s), by attorney Andrew S. Dziuk, of Andrew Dziuk, Esq. in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $6,604
IMPR.: $28,395
TOTAL: $34,999

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2023 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a 9,109 square foot site improved with a multi-story dwelling of frame and masonry construction with 1,774 square feet of living area. The dwelling on the property is fifty-four years old. Features include a partial basement and a two-car garage. The subject property is located in Palos Hills, Palos Township, Cook County and is classified as a 2-34 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant asserts assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument, the appellant submitted information on five suggested equity comparables with varying degrees of similarity to the subject property. The five properties offered by the appellant as comparables are each constructed of frame and masonry, have a two-car garage, a partial basement and range in size from 1,687 to 1,875 square feet of living area. The comparables range in age from fifty to fifty-five years old. The appellant reports that the comparables are between 0.07 to 0.22 miles from the subject property and have improvement assessments ranging from $14.79 to $15.90 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduction in the subject's assessment to $32,841.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject as $34,999. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $28,395 or $16.01 per square foot of living area. In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on four suggested equity comparables. The suggested comparable properties range in size from 1,641 to 1,731 square feet of living area. All of the board of review's suggested properties are constructed of frame and masonry, have a two-car garage, and a partial basement. The comparable properties range in age from fifty to fifty-two years old and have improvement assessments ranging from $16.69 to $17.61 per square foot of living area. The board of review reports that all of the comparables are located on the same block and have the same neighborhood code as the subject property. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested that the assessment be confirmed.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer asserts assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes "be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law." Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however, and it is sufficient if the taxing authority achieves a reasonable degree of uniformity. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill. Admin. Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a conviction of a crime. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill. Admin. Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

All of the comparables submitted by both parties are very similar to the subject property in size, location, age, and construction. In order to determine the comparables most similar to the subject property, the Board focused on the condition and/or amenities of the comparables compared to the subject property. Applying these criteria, the Board finds the comparables most similar to the subject property to be the appellant's comparables #1 and #3 and the board of review's comparables #2, #3, and #4.

The best evidence comparables had improvement assessments of $14.79 to $17.61 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $16.01 per square foot of living area falls within the range established by the best comparables in this record. After considering adjustments to these comparables for differences when compared to the subject, the Board finds the subject's improvement assessment is supported. Based on this record the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
