

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Edward Malewicz
DOCKET NO.: 23-38822.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 12-23-404-045-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Edward Malewicz, the appellant, by attorney Robert Rosenfeld, of Robert H. Rosenfeld & Associates, LLC in Northbrook, and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $7,503
IMPR.: $31,840
TOTAL: $39,343

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2023 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a two-story multi-family building of masonry exterior construction with 2,793 square feet of gross building area and which is approximately 44 years old.¹ Features include a full basement, 2½ bathrooms, and a 2.5-car garage. The property has a 3,750 square foot site and is located in Chicago, Jefferson Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as a class 2-11 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

¹ The subject property was also presented in Docket No. 22-37999 in which the parties agreed the building was 44 years old. In this 2023 tax year appeal, the board of review reported the building is 43 years old while the appellant reported the building is now 45 years old. The Board finds the best description is that the building is approximately 44 years old.

The appellant contends assessment inequity concerning the improvement as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument, the appellant submitted information on four equity comparables located in the same neighborhood code as the subject and from .5 of a mile to 1.5-miles from the subject. The comparables consist of class 2-11 buildings of masonry exterior construction that are 64 to 95 years old. The buildings range in size from 2,601 to 3,055 square feet of gross building area. Each comparable has a full basement, 2 or 3 full bathrooms, and a two-car garage. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $26,560 to $32,750 or from $10.21 to $10.72 per square foot of gross building area. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduced improvement assessment of $29,159 or $10.44 per square foot of gross building area which represents the average of the comparables.

The board of review submitted its “Board of Review Notes on Appeal” disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $39,343. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $31,840 or $11.40 per square foot of gross building area.

In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on four equity comparables located in the same neighborhood code and subarea or same block as the subject. The comparables consist of class 2-11 two-story buildings of masonry exterior construction which are 42 to 51 years old. The buildings range in size from 2,390 to 2,826 square feet of gross building area. Each comparable has a full basement, 2 or 3 full bathrooms, and comparable #1 also has 2 half-baths. Three comparables each have a two-car garage. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $28,345 to $36,750 or from $11.61 to $13.36 per square foot of gross building area. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject’s assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The parties submitted a total of eight equity comparables to support their respective positions before the Property Tax Appeal Board. The Board has given reduced weight to the appellant’s comparables, due to substantially older ages of 64 to 95 years old, when compared to the subject. The Board has given reduced weight to board of review comparable #4, due to its significantly smaller building size when compared to the subject of more than approximately 14%.

The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity are the board of review comparables #1, #2 and #3, as these comparables are most similar to the subject in age, building size, foundation type, and some features. Each has a full basement and these comparables bracket the subject in building size. The best comparables have superior bathroom counts necessitating adjustments to make the comparables more similar to the subject. The buildings are 42 to 51 years old, resulting in adjustments to the comparables for differing age when compared to the subject. One comparable also needs upward adjustments for lack of a garage. The best comparables have improvement assessments of $32,557 to $36,750 or from $11.61 to $13.36 per square foot of gross building area. The subject's improvement assessment of $31,840 or $11.40 per square foot of gross building area is below the best comparables in this record both in terms of overall improvement assessment and on a per-square-foot of gross building area basis.

The constitutional provision for uniformity of taxation and valuation does not require mathematical equality. The requirement is satisfied if the intent is evident to adjust the taxation burden with a reasonable degree of uniformity and if such is the effect of the statute enacted by the General Assembly establishing the method of assessing real property in its general operation. A practical uniformity, rather than an absolute one, is the test. Apex Motor Fuel Co. v. Barrett, 20 Ill. 2d 395 (1960). Although the comparables presented by the parties disclosed that properties located in the same area are not assessed at identical levels, all that the constitution requires is a practical uniformity which appears to exist on the basis of the evidence.

Based on this record and after considering appropriate adjustments to the best comparables in the record for differences when compared to the subject, the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
