

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: James Athanasopoulos
DOCKET NO.: 23-42062.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 13-12-113-038-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) are James Athanasopoulos, the appellant, by attorney Peter D. Verros, of Verros Berkshire, PC in Oakbrook Terrace; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, PTAB hereby finds No Change in the Cook County Board of Review's assessment of the property is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $18,000
IMPR.: $46,000
TOTAL: $64,000

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a Cook County Board of Review decision pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) contesting the assessment for the 2023 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a 4,231 square feet, two-story masonry building on a 5,625 square feet lot in Chicago, Jefferson Township, Cook County. The 82-year-old, class 2-11 residence under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance featured four bathrooms, no air conditioning, no garage, and a full basement.

The appellant based the petition on assessment inequity, contending that the assessment should be lowered to $2.32 per improvement square foot. As evidence of nonuniformity, the appellant nominated four class 2-11 residences within .308 miles of the subject. These suggested comparables featured no garage or a two-car garage, three or four bathrooms, air conditioning in properties #1 and #4, and a full basement. These potential comparator improvements were between 69 and 72 years in building age; 3,644 and 4,566 square feet in size; and $1.20 and $3.05 per living square foot in assessment.

The board of review countered that the subject improvement assessment of $46,000, or $10.87 per living square foot, was equitable in its “Notes on Appeal.” In defense of the $64,000 total subject assessment, the county board of review proposed four masonry improvements on the subject’s block as equity comparables. The board of review’s preferred comparators all featured a full or partial basement, no garage to a two-car garage, air conditioning in property #2, and two full and two half bathrooms up to four full bathrooms. These properties were 62 to 77 years in building age; 3,606 to 4,123 square feet in living area; and $11.35 to $14.27 per square foot in improvement assessment.

Prior to the scheduled hearing before the Property Tax Appeal Board, the parties agreed to waive hearing and have the appeal decided based on the written submissions.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires real estate taxes “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). Yet this uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not mandate absolute equality in taxation; instead, a reasonable degree of uniformity in the taxing authority’s assessments suffices. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When the ground for appeal is unequal treatment in the assessment, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof required for a criminal conviction. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment should consist of assessment documentation for the year in question of similarly situated properties of compelling proximity to, and with a lack of distinguishing characteristics from, the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) finds the appellant fell short of satisfying this burden of proof.

Of the parties’ submissions, board of review comparable #2 and appellant comparables #1 and #4 best represented the subject property and therefore circumscribe the range of equitable assessments. Board of review comparable #2 more than compensated for its slightly smaller improvement with air conditioning and a garage, placing it at the high end of the equitable range. Similarly, appellant comparable #4 offset its lack of living area relative to the subject with air conditioning. Finally, appellant comparable #1 was superior to the subject with its air conditioning and larger and newer building. Given the evidence in this case, the subject would be equitably assessed between $2.91 and $14.04 per improvement square foot. Because the subject assessment of $10.87 per improvement square foot lands within the range of equitable subject assessments, PTAB concludes the appellant did not demonstrate inequitable subject assessment by clear and convincing evidence and a reduction commensurate with the appellant’s request is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
