

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Jason Knuckey
DOCKET NO.: 23-43182.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 18-06-405-010-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) are Jason Knuckey, the appellant, by attorney Dora Cornelio, of Schmidt Salzman & Moran, Ltd. in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, PTAB hereby finds No Change in the Cook County Board of Review's assessment of the property is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $10,612
IMPR.: $140,206
TOTAL: $150,818

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a Cook County Board of Review decision pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2023 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a 4,314 square feet, two-story frame structure on a 9,648 square feet parcel in Western Springs, Lyons Township, Cook County. The 11-year-old, class 2-08 residence per the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance featured at least two bathrooms, a 2.5-car garage, air conditioning, and a full basement.<sup>1</sup>

Arguing the subject improvement was not equitably assessed, the appellant contends the assessment rate should be lowered to $23.51 per improvement square foot to achieve uniformity with like properties. To support the inequity argument, the appellant placed into evidence five class 2-08 properties with at least two full bathrooms in the subject's neighborhood. The appellant's suggested comparables all featured a two- to three-car garage, a full basement, and air conditioning. These potential comparator improvements varied from new-build to 40 years in age; 4,027 to 4,715 square feet in size; and $22.08 to $25.64 per living square foot in assessment.

The board of review countered that the subject improvement assessment of $140,206, or $32.50 per living square foot, was equitable in its “Notes on Appeal.” In defense of the $150,818 total subject assessment, the county board of review nominated four two-story improvements in the subject’s subarea as equity comparables. The board of review’s preferred comparators all featured a full basement, air conditioning, 3.5 to 4.5 bathrooms, and a two-car garage. These properties were four to 13 years in building age; 3,982 to 4,559 in living square footage; and $34.38 to $35.37 per living square foot in improvement assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires real estate taxes “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). Yet this uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not mandate absolute equality in taxation; instead, a reasonable degree of uniformity in the taxing authority’s assessments suffices. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment is the basis of a property tax appeal, appellants must prove the inequity of the assessments by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof required for a criminal conviction. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should comprise documentation for the year in question of similarly situated properties with compelling proximity to, and a lack of distinguishing characteristics from, the comparables to the subject. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) finds the appellant did not surmount this burden of proof.

Of the parties’ submissions, board of review comparable #2 and appellant comparables #2 and #5 most resembled the subject property and therefore circumscribe the range of equitable subject assessments. Board of review comparable #2 contained slightly less living and garage space than the subject but featured two more bathrooms. Conversely, appellant comparable #2 had more living area and bathroom utility than the subject but had an older improvement. Finally, appellant comparable #5 also had an older building and less living and garage space than the subject, through it did have more bathroom functionality than the subject. Given this record, the equitable range of subject improvement assessments runs from $22.44 to $35.30 per living square foot. Because the subject’s $32.50 per improvement square foot assessment lands inside this range, PTAB finds the appellant did not provide sufficiently clear and convincing evidence that the subject assessment was inequitable or that a reduction thereof is justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
