

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Perry & Karen Heard
DOCKET NO.: 23-46662.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 31-14-202-010-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) are Perry & Karen Heard, the appellants; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, PTAB hereby finds No Change in the Cook County Board of Review's assessment of the property is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND:	$5,738
IMPR.:	$27,496
TOTAL:	$33,234

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellants timely filed the appeal from a Cook County Board of Review decision pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2023 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

A 3,086 square feet, two-story masonry building on a 12,750 square feet lot in Olympia Fields of Rich Township, Cook County constitutes the subject property. The 34-year-old, class 2-78 residence per the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance contained 2.5 bathrooms, one fireplace, central air conditioning, an attached three-car garage, and a partial basement. The appellant indicated the subject last sold in December 1989 for $295,000 and that assessment equity was the basis of the appeal.

Arguing the $27,496 assessment is inequitably high for the subject improvement, the appellants contend the assessment must be lowered to $7.54 per improvement square foot to be equitable. To bolster this position, the appellants volunteered five two-story structures within 1,425 feet of the subject as assessment benchmarks. The appellants' preferred comparators all included one fireplace or none, at least a two-car garage, a full or partial basement, and air conditioning.

Moreover, these properties were between 30 and 39 years in building age; 3,538 and 5,118 in living square footage; and $7.20 and $7.73 per improvement square foot in assessment.

The county board of review maintained in its “Notes on Appeal” that the subject improvement was fairly assessed at $27,497, or $8.91 per living square foot. In defense of the $33,234 total subject assessment, the board of review nominated four properties within a quarter mile of the subject as equity comparables. The county board of review’s selections featured a two- to three-car garage, air conditioning (except submission #4), and a full basement. These suggested comparators ranged from 28 to 38 years in building age; 2,595 to 3,262 square feet in living area; and $9.39 to $10.59 per improvement square foot in assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayers contend assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however; instead, a reasonable degree of uniformity in the taxing authority’s assessments suffices. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When a property tax appeal is based on unequal treatment in the assessment, the appellant must prove the inequity of the assessments by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a criminal conviction. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation for the year in question of not fewer than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity, and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) finds the appellants did not surpass this burden of proof.

In this record, the appellants placed into evidence comparators that were at least 452 square feet, or 15% of the subject improvement, smaller than the subject. By contrast, board of review comparables #2 and #3 closely matched the subject’s living area, bathroom and fireplace count, basement size, and air conditioning inclusion. Similarly, board of review comparable #1 resembled the subject in bathroom count, air conditioning presence, and garage size—though it featured a larger basement than the subject, which mitigated the comparable’s smaller improvement. Based on the most comparable properties in evidence, the range of equitable assessments for the subject runs from $9.39 to $10.36 per improvement square foot. Because the subject’s $8.91 per improvement square foot assessment falls below this range, PTAB concludes the appellants did not demonstrate assessment inequity by clear and convincing evidence and a reduction in the assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
