

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Jaromin
DOCKET NO.: 23-47669.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 09-36-414-026-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) are Jaromin, the appellant, by attorney Andrew S. Dziuk, of Andrew Dziuk, Esq. in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, PTAB hereby finds No Change in the Cook County Board of Review's assessment of the property is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $8,500
IMPR.: $29,850
TOTAL: $38,350

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a Cook County Board of Review decision pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) contesting the assessment for the 2023 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of an 880 square feet, one-story masonry building on a 4,250 square feet lot in Chicago, Jefferson Township, Cook County. The 98-year-old, class 2-02 residence under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance featured two bathrooms, air conditioning, a two-car garage, and a full basement.

The appellant based the petition on assessment inequity, contending that the assessment should be lowered to $19.86 per improvement square foot. As evidence of nonuniformity, the appellant put forth five class 2-02 residences within .44 miles of the subject. These suggested comparables featured a one- to three-car garage, one to 1.5 bathrooms, no air conditioning, and a full basement. These potential comparator improvements were between 68 and 77 years in building age; 930 and 987 square feet in size; and $19.86 and $21.30 per living square foot in improvement assessment.

The board of review countered that the subject improvement assessment of $29,850, or $33.92 per living square foot, was equitable in its “Notes on Appeal.” In defense of the $38,350 total subject assessment, the county board of review proposed three masonry improvements in the subject’s subarea as equity comparables. The board of review’s preferred comparators all featured a full basement, no garage or a two-car garage, one bathroom, and air conditioning in properties #1 and #2. These properties were 64 to 96 years in building age; 905 to 943 square feet in living area; and $34.53 to $35.33 per living square foot in improvement assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires real estate taxes “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). Yet this uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not mandate absolute equality in taxation; instead, a reasonable degree of uniformity in the taxing authority’s assessments suffices. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When the ground for appeal is unequal treatment in the assessment, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof required for a criminal conviction. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment should consist of assessment documentation for the year in question of similarly situated properties of compelling proximity to, and with a lack of distinguishing characteristics from, the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) finds the appellant fell short of satisfying this burden of proof.

Of the parties’ submissions, board of review comparables #1 and #2 and appellant comparable #1 constitute the best evidence of subject assessment equity. As the only properties in evidence with air conditioning, board of review comparables #1 and #2 best approximate the subject improvement because they both had more living area than the subject, which mitigated their lack of the subject’s second full bathroom, and, in the case of comparator #2, the subject’s garage. On the other hand, appellant comparable #1 was inferior to the subject because it only compensated for the lack of air conditioning and second full bathroom with more living and garage space, placing it at the bottom of the $19.86 to $35.33 per living square foot range of equitable improvement assessments. Because the subject assessment of $33.92 per improvement square foot is within the equitable range, PTAB concludes the appellant did not demonstrate inequitable subject assessment by clear and convincing evidence and a reduction commensurate with the appellant’s request is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
