

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: John Robinson
DOCKET NO.: 24-20592.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 10-11-322-014-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) are John Robinson, the appellant, by attorney Robert Rosenfeld, of Robert H. Rosenfeld & Associates, LLC in Northbrook; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, PTAB hereby finds No Change in the Cook County Board of Review's assessment of the property is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $23,760
IMPR.: $76,816
TOTAL: $100,576

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a Cook County Board of Review decision pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2024 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a 3,350 square feet, two-story masonry structure on a 9,900 square feet parcel in Evanston of Evanston Township, Cook County. The 95-year-old, class 2-06 residence per the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance contained 3.5 bathrooms, an attached two-car garage, and a full basement.

The appellant pleads assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal, arguing that the subject improvement assessment should be reduced to $20.42 per living square foot. To show subject assessment nonuniformity, the appellant presented information on four class 2-06 properties within a half mile of the subject property. These suggested comparables each included a one- to two-car garage, no air conditioning, and 2.5 to 4.5 bathrooms. The appellant's selections spanned 92 to 104 years in building age; 2,961 to 3,632 square feet in improvement area; and $19.21 to $21.74 per living square foot in improvement assessment.

The board of review countered that the subject improvement assessment of $76,816, or $22.93 per living square foot, was equitable in its “Notes on Appeal.” In defense of the $100,576 total subject assessment, the county board of review introduced into evidence four two-story improvements within a quarter mile of the subject as assessment comparables. The county board of review’s preferred comparators featured two to 3.5 bathrooms, a two-car garage, and a full or partial basement. These improvements ranged from 95 to 100 years in building age; 2,352 to 3,652 square feet in size; and $23.02 to $39.69 per living square foot in improvement assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires real estate taxes “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). Yet this uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not mandate absolute equality in taxation; instead, a reasonable degree of uniformity in the taxing authority’s assessments suffices. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment is the basis of a property tax appeal, appellants must prove the inequity of the assessments by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof required for a criminal conviction. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should comprise documentation for the year in question of similarly situated properties of compelling proximity to, and with a lack of distinguishing characteristics from, the assessment subject. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) finds the appellant did not overcome this burden of proof.

In this record, board of review comparable #3 and appellant comparables #2 and #4 best represented the subject improvement and therefore circumscribe the range of equitable subject assessments. Board of review comparable #3 remedied its smaller improvement and one fewer full bathroom relative to the subject with air conditioning. By contrast, appellant comparables #2 and #4 both lacked air conditioning like the subject in addition to lacking the subject’s living square footage and bathroom utility for comparator #2. Given these properties, PTAB finds the subject improvement would be equitably assessed between $19.21 and $23.58 per living square foot. Because the subject’s $22.93 per improvement square foot assessment is within the equitable range, PTAB determines the appellant did not supply clear and convincing evidence of assessment inequity or that a subject assessment reduction is justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
