

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Jason Streeter
DOCKET NO.: 24-20601.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 15-36-100-014-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) are Jason Streeter, the appellant, by attorney Dora Cornelio, of Schmidt Salzman & Moran, Ltd. in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, PTAB hereby finds No Change in the Cook County Board of Review's assessment of the property is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $26,389
IMPR.: $53,611
TOTAL: $80,000

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a Cook County Board of Review decision pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) contesting the assessment for the 2024 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

A 3,946 square feet, multi-level structure of masonry construction situated on a 23,990 square feet lot in Riverside of Riverside Township, Cook County constitutes the subject property. The 68-year-old, class 2-04 residence per the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance included a full basement, central air conditioning, and a two-car garage.¹

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the petition, arguing that the subject assessment must be lowered to $11.11 per improvement square foot to be equitable. To show the subject was not uniformly assessed, the appellant volunteered five class 2-04 improvements of unknown proximity to the subject as assessment benchmarks. The appellant's proposed comparators featured a two- to four-car garage, two or three bathrooms, and a full basement. These properties were 31 to 109 years in building age; 2,198 to 4,960 in living square footage; and $6.45 to $12.29 per improvement square foot in assessment.

The county board of review maintained in its “Notes on Appeal” that the subject improvement was fairly assessed at $53,611, or $13.59 per living square foot. In defense of the $80,000 total subject assessment, the board of review nominated four buildings in the subject’s subarea as equity comparables. The county board of review’s selections featured a partial or crawl-space basement, one or two fireplaces, and a 1.5- or two-car garage. These improvements were 62 to 98 years in age; 2,823 to 3,753 square feet in area; and $13.67 to $16.43 per square foot in assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not mandate absolute equality in taxation, however; instead, a reasonable degree of uniformity in the taxing authority’s assessments suffices. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When a property tax appeal is based on unequal treatment in the assessment, appellants must prove the inequity of the assessments by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof required for a criminal conviction. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation for the year in question of demonstrably similar properties with compelling proximity to, and a lack of distinguishing characteristics from, the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) finds the appellant fell short of satisfying this burden of proof.

Of the parties’ submissions, board of review comparables #1 and #3 and appellant comparable #2 most resembled the subject improvement and therefore constitute the best evidence of assessment equity. Board of review comparable #3 was inferior to the subject because it lacked some of the subject’s square footage and bathroom functionality. Board of review comparable #1 was likewise smaller than the subject improvement but featured an extra full bathroom and fireplace. Finally, appellant comparable #2 closely mirrored the subject improvement and anchors the equitable assessment range of $10.05 to $16.43 per improvement square foot. Because the subject’s $13.59 per living square foot assessment falls within this equitable range, PTAB concludes the appellant failed to show inequitable assessment by clear and convincing evidence and a reduction thereof is accordingly not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
