Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2024 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of six approximately 18-year-old condominium units in a building, with 1,200 square feet of living area each, of masonry construction. Features of the home include a slab foundation and central air conditioning. The property has a 6,183 square foot site and is located in Chicago, West Chicago Township, Cook County. The subjects are classified as class 2-99 properties under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends overvaluation as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument the appellant submitted information on five comparable sales. The comparables are located within 0.6 miles of the subject. The comparables are 16- to 100-year-old class 2-99 residences with masonry construction. The comparables were sold between July 2023 and February 2024 for sale prices between $222,500 and $235,000. The comparables have sale prices per square foot between $240.13 and $288.24. Some of the comparables are limited, in that for comparable #1 the appellant listed the square footage of an entire building and for comparable #2 the appellant did not list the living area square footage of the unit. Those comparables will not be considered. The appellant is requesting a total assessment of $135,000.

In support of its contention of the correct assessment the board of review submitted a condominium analysis regarding recent sales in the six appealed units. Per the analysis, one condominium has recently sold totaling $310,000. The board of review stated that based on this unit comprising 18.52 percent of all units means the entire building would be worth $1,673,866, which would equal the determined assessed value. The board of review then determined the value of each subject unit based on its ownership percentage of the building. The board of review is requesting that the current assessment be confirmed based on this analysis.

Conclusion of Law

The appellant contends the market value of the subject property is not accurately reflected in its assessed valuation. When market value is the basis of the appeal the value of the property must be proved by a preponderance of the evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e). Proof of market value may consist of an appraisal of the subject property, a recent sale, comparable sales or construction costs. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(c). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The Board finds the best evidence of market value to be none of the evidence submitted by either party. The appellant's submitted comparables contain incomplete information or are smaller units when compared to the subjects. The board of review's analysis only relies on one recent sale, which is a limited sample to base the entire value of the building on. However, since the burden is on the appellant, the appellant failed to meet the burden of proof. Based on this evidence the Board finds a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
