Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2024 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of 12 approximately 97-year-old condominium units in the same building of living area of masonry construction. Features of the home include a slab foundation and central air conditioning. The property has an 8,124 square foot site and is located in Chicago, West Chicago Township, Cook County. The subjects are classified as a class 2-99 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends overvaluation as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument the appellant submitted a condominium analysis regarding five of the appealed units. The appellant stated that these ten condominiums sold between September 2020 and February 2022 for sale prices between $295,000 and $415,000. The appellant extrapolated a total value based on these sales. In its analysis, the appellant is stating that basically the entire requested reduction should be based on a 10 percent personalty adjustment that is not supported by any statute or Property Tax Appeal Board precedent. The appellant is requesting a total assessment of all units of $409,654.

In support of its contention of the correct assessment the board of review submitted a condominium analysis regarding recent sales in the 12 appealed units. Per the analysis, ten of the units recently sold for a total of $3,765,000. The board of review stated that based on these units comprising 83.45 percent of all units means the entire building would be worth $4,511,683. The board of review then determined the value of each subject unit based on its ownership percentage of those sales. The board of review is requesting that the current assessment be confirmed based on this analysis.

Conclusion of Law

The appellant contends the market value of the subject property is not accurately reflected in its assessed valuation. When market value is the basis of the appeal the value of the property must be proved by a preponderance of the evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e). Proof of market value may consist of an appraisal of the subject property, a recent sale, comparable sales or construction costs. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(c). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The Board finds the best evidence of market value to be the condominium analysis submitted by the board of review. This analysis is thorough in that it captures recent sales of 10 out of the 12 units in the building and is therefore a very good indicator of value. The appellant's analysis is similar, but bases the entire reduction on a 10% personalty adjustment that has no basis in statute or precedent (nor was it explained by the appellant). In the end, however, the burden is on the appellant, and the appellant did not meet that burden here. Based on this evidence the Board finds a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
