

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Liam Reardon
DOCKET NO.: 24-38594.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 25-07-318-010-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Liam Reardon, the appellant(s); and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $10,664
IMPR.: $25,336
TOTAL: $36,000

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160), challenging the assessment for the 2024 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a 99-year-old one-story residence, a single-family dwelling of frame construction with 1,464 square feet of living area. Features of the home include a slab basement, three bedrooms, and one full bathroom. The property has a 6,880 square foot site and is located in Chicago, Lake Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as a class 2-03 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends that assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument, the appellant submitted information on five one-story equity comparables with varying degrees of similarities to the subject. The comparables ranged in age from 96 to 102 years and ranged in living square footage from 1,205 to 1,318 square feet of living area. The comparables all had masonry construction, air conditioning, and one bathroom. The comparables have either one, one and a half, or two car garages. Based on this evidence, the appellant is requesting an assessment amount of $29,000.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal," disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $36,000. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $25,336 or $17.31 per square foot of living area. In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on four equity comparables. The comparables ranged in age from 73 to 105 years old, and in living square footage from $1,040 to $1,660.

In rebuttal, the appellant argued that the board of review's submission fails to provide any actual market evidence. And also stated their equity grid shows only assessed values - not a single sale price or sale date. More importantly, they included two properties with full basements in their comparison without making any adjustment for this major difference. The appellant stated their property has a slab foundation with no basement, which significantly impacts value. The appellant further affirmed the request to reduce their assessment to reflect what similar properties are actually selling for in Beverly and to ensure fair treatment compared to other slab-foundation homes. The appellant further stated they've owned this property since 2003, and they are not trying to game anything. In closing, the appellant stated the current assessment is too high based on market sales, it's inequitable compared to other slab foundation properties, and the board of review evidence doesn't support it.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer asserts assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes, "be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law." Ill. Const. art. IX, §4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however, and it is sufficient if the taxing authority achieves a reasonable degree of uniformity. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a conviction of a crime. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity to be the appellant's comparables #3 and #5, and the board of review's comparable #3. These comparables ranged in improvement assessment from $12.12 to $20.08 per square foot of living area. The subject improvement assessment of $17.31 per square foot of living area falls within the range established by the best comparables in this record. The comparables were similar to the subject property in construction, number of stories, age, and basement area. After considering the differences between the suggested comparables and the subject, the Board finds the subject's improvement assessment is supported. Based on this record, the Board finds that the appellant did not demonstrate, with clear and convincing evidence, that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed, and that a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
