

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Ronald Varek
DOCKET NO.: 24-40542.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 27-14-103-020-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Ronald Varek, the appellant(s), by attorney Brian S. Maher, of Weis, DuBrock, Doody & Maher in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $6,450
IMPR.: $25,185
TOTAL: $31,635

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2024 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a single-story dwelling of masonry construction, approximately fifty-three years old, with 1,841 square feet of living area on a 10,320 square foot site in Orland Park, Orland Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as 2-04 under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance. Features of the home include two full bathrooms, a full basement, air conditioning and a two-car garage.

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument the appellant submitted information on four equity comparables with varying degrees of similarity to the subject property. The properties offered by the appellant as comparables are each single-story class 2-04 homes of frame and masonry or masonry construction ranging in age from forty-six to fifty-three years old and ranging size from 2,034 to 2,588 square feet of living area. All the comparables have two full bathrooms and two also have a half bathroom. All have partial basements. Three have air conditioning and two-car garages. The record is silent on the proximity of the comparables to the subject property. Based on this evidence, the appellant is requesting an assessment amount of $28,579.

The board of review submitted its “Board of Review Notes on Appeal” stating the total assessment for the subject property as $31,635 including an improvement assessment of $25,185 or $13.68 per square foot. In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on four equity comparables. The comparables are all one-story masonry structures ranging in size from 1,841 to 1,875 square feet of living area and ranging in age from fifty-one to fifty-four years-old. All the comparables have two full bathrooms and three have a half bathroom. Three have partial basements and one has a full basement. All have air conditioning and two-car garages. The board of review reports that all the comparables are located on the same block as the subject property.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer asserts assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes, “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const. art. IX, §4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however, and it is sufficient if the taxing authority achieves a reasonable degree of uniformity. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by the appellant by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a conviction of a crime. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity, and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity to be the appellant's comparables #2, #3 and #4 and the board of review's comparables. These comparable properties are similar to the subject in terms of living area, age, construction and – in the case of the board of review's comparables - proximity to the subject property. In contrast, appellant's comparable #1 is 747 square feet larger in living area than the subject property. That comparable also lacks air conditioning and a garage. The Board finds that this comparable is afforded less weight based on these distinguishing characteristics. The best evidence comparables ranged in improvement assessment from $12.29 to $16.64 per square foot. The subject property's improvement assessment of $13.68 per square foot falls within the range established by the best comparables in the record. Based on this record the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
